EXHIBIT D
(The remainder of this page intentionally left blank)
PURPOSE
The purpose of the higher education strategy is to collaborate with students to develop effective outreach opportunities for college students to learn about the 2020 Census and to encourage them to respond to the Census questionnaire.

The state’s colleges and universities enroll more than three million students. Colleges and universities with on-campus housing can choose how students are counted either through a group quarters process or by receiving a postcard in the mail. The 2020 Census requires college students to be counted where they are at as of April 1, 2020. Campuses can communicate to students that if they live in off-campus housing, they are responsible for completing their Census questionnaires. For those who live with their families, they can be trusted messengers for completing the Census questionnaire.

OUTCOME
The desired outcome is to ensure a full and accurate count of college students living in California in the 2020 Census.

PROCESS
The California Complete Count - Census 2020 Office (Census Office) will work with higher education systems and institutions and student organizations to leverage the State’s resources and coordinate efforts in the field with students as key stakeholders. The Census Office will build on good practices and established partnerships with higher education institutions to ensure effective and efficient deployment of the State’s resources for a complete count.

TARGET AUDIENCE
The main target audience for the Census Office’s efforts are the students that fall into the hard-to-count demographic areas.

The Census Office will work with the higher education system and campuses of:

- University of California (UC)
- California State University (CSU)
- California Community Colleges (through the Community College Chancellor’s Office and Community College League of California)
- Association of California Colleges and Universities

Other entities include:

- California Student Aid Commission
- California Department of Education, Adult Education Division
KEY RESPONSIBILITIES AND TASKS

HIGHER EDUCATION INSTITUTIONS

The higher education institutions are requested to be responsible for overseeing outreach and education activities at their institutions/campuses, and will actively engage students in identifying effective outreach strategies and tactics to reach their peers about the 2020 Census (sample tactics outlined below):

- Identify at least one office at each campus responsible for the Census 2020
- Each campus is asked to develop a plan to support outreach to students from hard-to-count demographics
- Organize events with student groups and student media to provide information
- Provide opportunities for students to link to the Census questionnaire online via campus emails, website registration sites, or social media
- Provide information on the Census; inform students of locations and hours of Questionnaire Assistance Centers in the area

Goal: Ensure information and assistance are readily available to college students on their campuses and in their communities. This phase is action-oriented and puts into play each of the activities and efforts formulated in Phase II, with the purpose of implementing campus and organizational specific plans.
Census Office:
- Partner with California Student Aid Commission and I Can Afford College to have information on their website and include information in mailers about student participation in the census linking to the California Complete Count website

PARTNERS

The following section provides a summary of activities conducted by partners working on Census outreach efforts.

FOUNDATION FOR CALIFORNIA COMMUNITY COLLEGES ROLL OUT AND STRATEGY

Target Population: 2.1 million students
Contract amount: $956,795
Status: Contract executed (November 2019)

The California Complete Count Census Office in partnership with the Foundation for California Community Colleges and the Chancellor’s office proposes to reach over 2.1 million students, and the majority of these students are representative of hard-to-count populations. California’s community colleges are located in the urban, rural, and suburban areas throughout the state. This college system is one of the most effective ways to reach young adults ages 19-25 who are not in the traditional four-year colleges. Many of these students are first-time college attendees who will educate and inform their families and communities. An investment in a coordinated community college system has the opportunity to reach not only the students, but their families.

For more than 15 years the California Community Colleges have successfully implemented a statewide awareness program, “I Can Afford College” that reach millions of students. Using successful techniques learned through this program, a Census 2020 Outreach campaign has been designed.

The campaign in multiple languages (primarily Spanish and English) includes the following activities:

- Produce videos, targeted social media, email and text messaging to students
- Create collateral materials and news articles to distribute system-wide
- Advertise Census Day, April 1, 2020 on IHeart radio and at campus events encouraging students to complete the census
- Recruit and train 50 students to become Census Outreach Ambassadors to reach 40,000 HTC students. They will: provide Census information; host events, orientations, activity fairs, and other campus events; work with different campus groups; and represent campus on local media
CALIFORNIA STATE UNIVERSITY

Target Population: 481,000 students
Proposed amount: $325,000
Status: Proposed / In Discussion/ Interagency Agency

The California Complete Count Census office will work with the California State University through the Chancellor’s Office to empower campuses to create customized outreach plans. This strategy provides funding to the Chancellor’s Office for student incentive grants to Cal State University student-led organizations. It is proposed that a total of $325,000 will be distributed on the 23 campuses and activities may include: media and events to motivate participation in Census 2020.

Grants will be dispersed based on HTC index and merit of the proposals at the Chancellor’s discretion. The suggested criteria include: the HTC index, percent of students that are historically underrepresented and total population of the campus.

The Chancellor’s Office will take into consideration these factors and present a proposed distribution of the funds. The Census Office is working with the Chancellor’s Office ensuring that hard to count populations on college campuses are reached.

The Census office will work with the CSU Chancellor’s office to determine the criteria and funding levels for the grants. This work has begun and will continue through December 2019. The census office will execute an interagency agreement with the CSU Chancellor’s Office.
UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA

Target Population: 258,000
Proposed amount: $200,000
Status: In Discussion/ Interagency Agreement

The Census Office proposes to work with the University of California’s system that focuses on student services that reach the hard to count populations who are enrolled in the UC schools. These programs may include the Basic Needs Center (serving students with food, housing, and financial insecurity) and the Centers for Educational Equity and Excellence (serving low-income, first-generation students, students of color, or undocumented students and non-traditional students, such as veterans, student parents, formerly incarcerated or foster youth).

The Census Office will provide:
- Flyers and posters to post and distribute to offices and students
- Sample texting and email messages for campus administrators to disseminate on existing listservs and communication mechanisms
- Access to the Partner Portal

The Census office is working with the University of California’s Office of the President to identify criteria for campuses mini-grant distribution. This work will have a base amount allotted for student government groups who are engaged in voter registration and census awareness, along with funds that will be used to engage student organizations that focus on hard to count populations.
ASSOCIATION OF CALIFORNIA COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES

Target Population: 188,800
Proposed amount: 0
Status: Implementation Phase

The Association of California Colleges and Universities represents private nonprofit colleges (150) and for-profit institutions (200) (through the Association of Independent California Colleges and Universities.

The California Complete Count Census 2020 Office is working with the Association of California Colleges and Universities to share census outreach materials and present at various events. There have been several partners that have supported local efforts through this consortium. They include Lutheran University and Dominican University. Dominican University has made the 2019-2020 school year focus on understanding the impact of the census. The ACCIU governmental relations representatives have access to the Partner portal, for co-branding census outreach.
The California Department of Education (CDE) hosts the Adult Education Division. Adult Education provides schools and classes for adult learners 18 years and older. These schools and classes support adult learners so that they may obtain general education diplomas, learn about jobs, and learn how to become a U.S. citizens. This program works as a collaboration with California's Community Colleges. This program serves many adults who are in the hard to count demographic groups.

The California Complete Count Census Office and Adult Education Division had a series of meetings to discuss coordinated approaches to census outreach. It was determined that a curriculum would be developed to teach adult learners about the census. The Department of Education and the Community College Chancellor's office worked together to create the curriculum. There were two different curricula developed: (1) The EL Civics Census Curriculum to understand the census and (2) a curriculum focused on how to become an enumerator for the U.S. census. These curricula have set a national standard for adult education. Adult education teachers in the Central Valley developed a phone application that alerts students as to where census jobs are located and when they are available in the central valley. This innovation reminds students about the census as well as providing them with opportunities to earn additional income.

The Community College League of California distributed over 200 Flyers at the Community College Public Information Officers annual conference in San Diego April 10-12, 2019. These informational flyers provided links to local complete count committees and information regarding toolkits.

Over 400 flyers with basic census information were distributed at the California Council for Adult Education conference, April 24-28, 2019 to administrators and principals of adult education schools.

The collaboration between the Census Office and the various stakeholders in the adult education world is ongoing. They are provided informational updates.

The Honorable Gavin Newsom
Governor, State of California
State Capitol
Sacramento, California 95814

Dear Governor Newsom:

Thank you for your recent letter concerning the 2020 Census. I assure you that the California State University (CSU), its trustees and campus leaders recognize its critical importance and are committed to doing all we can to ensure a full and accurate count.

I shared your letter with our campus presidents last week, and during the resulting discussion, they uniformly expressed their enthusiasm about working with your staff, as well as the California Complete Count – Census 2020 office, to educate and engage the CSU’s students and campus communities in this regard. We believe a response coordinated at the campus level will be the most effective, allowing for the wide range of capacities and resources across our 23 campuses, as well as variabilities associated with location and student population.

As a next step, we have been in communication with your office to schedule time to meet with our presidents at the next gathering of my Senior Leadership Council, October 16-17 at the Sheraton Grand Sacramento. This will provide an opportunity for your staff to engage in dialog with our campus leaders to determine how we can best advance our shared goals for the 2020 Census across the CSU’s campuses.

Again, thank you for your letter. The CSU looks forward to partnering with you in our collective, statewide effort to ensure that all Californians are counted.

Sincerely,

Timothy P. White
Chancellor

Re: Response to Governor Newsom’s letter regarding 2020 Census Partnership with the University of California

Dear Governor Newsom:

Thank you for your letter of July 17 regarding the 2020 Census, and for your request to partner with each other to ensure that we engage all populations, including UC students, in the process. I fully appreciate the significance of the census and its impact on our institutions and the day-to-day lives of California residents.

Your letter comes at an opportune time as several of our campuses have just begun their initial planning efforts for the 2020 Census. I will share your letter with our Chancellors, asking that they ensure each campus meets—at minimum—the five commitments you have outlined, and that they have an identified point of contact responsible for coordinating their 2020 Census effort. In addition, I am asking that Student Affairs and External Relations and Communications at the Office of the President take the lead in co-facilitating systemwide discussion and collaboration with your California Complete Count—Census 2020 Office, to ensure our efforts are aligned and that our campuses benefit from their expertise.

I am confident that through this partnership, our collective efforts can lead to a successful 2020 Census. Thank you for your leadership on this critical issue.

Yours very truly,

Janet Napolitano
President
