CALIFORNIA COMPLETE COUNT - CENSUS 2020 OFFICE

What You Need to Know About the Census

Every 10 years, people in California and across the country fill out the Census in order to have an accurate count of every person living in the United States. The Census influences California's federal funding for important community services that support our families and determines congressional representation for the next decade.

Why is the 2020 Census Important for Veterans in Rural America?

The 2020 Census is the one chance to get really great information that can help families and communities in rural America.

For veterans and their families living in areas that are more rural than urban, Census data is the primary source used to make critical decisions like how to build schools and what services need to be offered such as childcare and social assistance programs.

Data from the 2020 Census will be used to determine funding for many federal programs aimed at families and communities in rural areas - programs like Rural Education, Department of Justice's Rural Domestic Violence Assistance, Water and Waste Disposal Systems for Rural Communities, Rural Business Development Grants, and Rural Housing Preservation Grants.

An accurate count is especially crucial for veterans in rural communities, those with disabilities, and those at risk of homelessness.

Data from the 2020 Census will help the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs plan programs and assess emerging needs for veterans.
