Narrative Report

- 1) List your goal(s) and objectives as it appears in your strategic and implementation plan. What and how did you revise the objectives due to COVID-19 and the US Census Bureau's operational adjustments?

Strategic Plan's Goals: The County's goal is to ensure that hard-To-count (HTC) communities and populations in the County are accurately counted in the 2020 Census, thereby achieving the highest self-response rate possible for the County and the region.

Implementation Plan's Goals: Ensure that HTC communities and populations are accurately counted in the 2020 Census, thereby achieving the highest self-response rate possible for Region 7. We will do this by building and strengthening capacity by collaboratively working with a network of community-based organizations, local governments and others across sectors to ensure that everyone is counted.

Implementation Plan's Objectives:

- Develop a regional approach that encourages cross-sectoral collaboration between the State-awarded Administrative Community Based Organization (ACBO), Counties, University of California, Riverside's Center for Social Innovation (UCR-CSI), the Inland Empire Complete Count Committee (IECCC), and other stakeholders.

- Utilize existing points of contacts with HTC populations including the education and non-profit sectors to conduct Census outreach and gain commitments to participate.
- Engage residents through door-to-door canvassing efforts in the hardest to count Census tracts to gain pledges to participate in the Census.
- Provide Census messaging via local ethnic media to our HTC communities.
- Conduct "Get Out the Count" outreach to re-engage and provide support to HTC communities through events, phone banks, texting, and Questionnaire Assistance Centers.

Revisions to the Implementation Plan Objectives:

As the pandemic progressed and the ability to do in person contact became increasingly limited, the County and the partners developed a contingency plan to continue the deployment of the objectives. Primarily, the objectives that required in-person contact were shifted to either virtual or over the phone outreach. For instance, as door-to-door canvassing was no longer an option, the partners switched to phone banking. Also, trainings that were planned to be in person were transitioned to virtual sessions.

Additionally, messaging was revised to include an emphasis on safety and to inform residents of the new deadlines as the Census campaign continued beyond the original end date. Fortunately, the partners who carried out these tasks had the ability and support to continue the outreach successfully despite the challenges and many competing demands that were experienced.

- 2) Reflecting on your own operations and outreach strategies throughout the campaign, please provide a response with specific examples for the following questions. Please also indicate which timeframe you are referring to in your response (i.e., education, NRFU period).

Contracted partner's operations

What worked well operationally?

The collaboration among all Region 7 partners, including the various CBOs, school districts, and neighboring jurisdictions, was an element of this campaign that was beneficial for the County's operations. The amount of information sharing regarding best practices, strategies, as well as identifying operational and outreach gaps and how to fill them, was critical for the County's operations, especially in working together to resolve obstacles related to the pandemic.

What hindered the operations?

The pandemic was the greatest impact to the operations. Unfortunately, as the Census campaign extended through the summer and into the fall, staff capacity became limited, as operational demands were heightened. Thus, the pivoting of outreach efforts was more difficult to overcome due to the availability of staff, who were already stretched thin dealing with the impacts of the pandemic.

Contracted partner's outreach

What outreach tactics worked well?

In preparation for the education phase of the Census campaign, the County purchased Census "swag" that consisted of reusable grocery tote bags, hand sanitizers, pens, and cups with the Inland Empire (IE) Census logo. These items were very well received at our in-person events, especially in the town hall meetings in the unincorporated communities throughout the County.

These items were also widely distributed at one of the County's largest events of the year, the Riverside County Fair and Date Festival held in Indio. The County strategically placed IE Census booths at the entrance of the festival to distribute the informational flyers and give participants a chance to win the Census "swag" by spinning a wheel. All ages and demographics participated in the spin the wheel activity and it prompted conversation and engagement with members of the public about the importance of the Census.

The location of the festival was equally important, as Indio is in the east part of the County, which primarily consists of the County's hardest to count communities and populations. The Festival provided the County the ability to reach and engage those who were at the highest risk of not being counted and provide them with the most current and accurate information.

Thankfully, we were able to conduct this two-week outreach effort prior to the closures prompted by the pandemic. There were several other similar events that were planned throughout the County's HTC communities, however, they did not come to fruition due to changes mandated as a result of the pandemic. The undistributed Census swag was distributed to the various food banks throughout the County, thereby reaching a different HTC population.

What hindered the outreach?

The pandemic greatly hindered the County's in-person outreach efforts, including in-person events in the County's HTC regions and the deployment of Questionnaire Assistance Centers and Kiosks that the County was planning to host in coordination with the County's library system and the Riverside County Office of Education.

- 3) Describe challenges and changes occurring outside or within your organization / agency that had an impact on the outreach work. Describe how you responded to these changes to work toward achieving a complete count.

Unfortunately, as the Census campaign extended through the summer and into the fall, staff capacity became limited. Thus, the pivoting of outreach efforts was more difficult to overcome due to the availability of staff, who were already stretched thin dealing with the impacts of the pandemic.

County of Riverside

Staff put in the extra hours to ensure the outreach efforts did not suffer the shortcomings associated with limited staff availability. Further, we made an emphasis to keep our weekly "Strategy Stakeholder Meetings" which were held via Zoom. These meetings were critical as it kept the key partners updated on the region's efforts and provided the venue to continue the collaboration and momentum that was built upon since the beginning of the campaign.

Additionally, the coordination with the State contracted media consultant occurred very late in the campaign and it was difficult to plan without knowing the scope of what would be provided when and where. The County moved forward with creating its own media campaign as we understood the time and effort it takes to conduct media buys and the urgency to get the messaging out to the public. Unfortunately, there may have been overlap in the billboards and/or print media among the partners.

- 4) For county and ACBO partners, what was the county (or region's) 2010 response rate and what was the 2020 response rate? If the response rate met and exceeded the 2010 response rate, what contributed to that? If it did not meet the 2010 response rate, what were some of the challenges for that? For other partners, please note what data you used and how you used data for your strategies.

Riverside County's 2010 self-response rate: 63.5%

Riverside County's 2020 self-response rate: 67.2%

Riverside County was able to surpass its 2010 Census self-response rate by 3.7% primarily due to the following efforts:

- We developed a regional approach that encouraged cross-sectoral collaboration between the Inland Empire Community Foundation (Region 7 ACBO), San Bernardino County, the University of California, Riverside's Center for Social Innovation (UCR-CSI), the Inland Empire Complete Count Committee (IECCC), and other stakeholders.
 - Utilized existing points of contacts with HTC populations including the education and non-profit sectors to conduct Census outreach and gain commitments to participate.
 - Engaged residents through door-to-door canvassing efforts in the hardest to count Census tracts to gain pledges to participate in the Census.
 - Provided Census messaging via local ethnic media to our HTC communities.
- 5) Please describe the process and results of your partnership coordination and how it educated and motivated the hard-to-count populations to complete the Census questionnaire.
- 1) We developed a regional approach that encouraged cross-sectoral collaboration between the ACBO, Counties, UCR-CSI, IECCC, and other stakeholders.

This approach ensured that all geographies received their fair share of resources, all HTC populations were covered, and that resources were used in an efficient way leading to increased impact. This approach included development of and participation in the two-county IE Complete Count Committee, the development of 7 sub-regions, use of regional tables for on-the-ground coordination, and ongoing analysis from UCR-CSI. Additionally, utilization of a local software solution to track outreach locations and HTC populations was highly useful so that community-based organizations were able to collaborate efficiently, track progress collectively, and identify and respond to gaps.

- 2) We utilized existing points of contacts with HTC populations including the education and non-profit sectors to conduct Census outreach and gain commitments to participate.

Organizations and agencies who engage with HTC populations through a variety of services, activities, and events were the ideal trusted messengers to deliver Census messages to educate, motivate, and activate residents. We utilized these existing points of contact to provide Census messaging so that HTC communities heard about the Census from someone whom they have an established relationship with. Trusted messengers within CBOs and other agencies engaged their clients/volunteers/residents to make pledges to fill out the Census. During the non-response follow-up period, we continued to utilize this strategy, engaging trusted messengers to develop local strategies in the Census tracts with the lowest response rates.

- 3) We engaged residents through door-to-door canvassing efforts in the hardest to count Census tracts to gain pledges to participate in Census.

Not all individuals who fall into HTC populations are actively connected to CBOs and agencies. In fact, the most disenfranchised and isolated individuals were the hardest to count. We utilized door-to-door canvassing by trusted messengers/canvassers hired from HTC communities. We targeted Census tracts with an LRS score above 27 and an HTC index score over 46. Similar to what is detailed in objective #2, trusted messengers engaged residents at the door to make pledges to fill out the Census so that they can follow through to support those residents during the self-response period.

- 4) We provided Census messaging via local ethnic media to our HTC communities.

Local and ethnic media often serve as trusted messengers and can deliver messages about the Census to populations in their language and include custom messages that are relevant and resonate within their culture and provide unique context. Media can often reach people who are isolated or who may not be willing to open the door to canvassers. Local media, including billboards or advertisements in public spaces ensured that every single person was reached with Census messaging in an accessible format.

- 5) We conducted “Get Out the Count” outreach to re-engage and provide support to HTC communities through events, phone banks, texting, and Questionnaire Assistance Centers and Kiosks.

During the self-response period, we needed to ensure that all the residents and communities we have engaged will have the information, access to technology, and support to follow through and complete the Census questionnaire. During this period, we utilized proven strategies for “Get out the Vote” to re-engage all those who pledged to fill out the Census through their preferred method of communication and connect them to resources. In addition, we utilized the existing points of communication and local and ethnic media to get the word out and activate hard to count to communities. In order to ensure that HTC communities have access to the support and resources they needed, we developed a network of Questionnaire Assistance Centers and Kiosks (QAC/K) in a variety of locations and languages. However, unfortunately due to the pandemic, the County was unable to deploy the QAC/Ks as originally planned. Although the County’s QAC/Ks strategy did not get deployed, residents were directed to other QAC/Ks that were hosted by our various partners, as well as the U.S. Census Bureau’s Mobile QAC opportunities.

- 6) Please provide a list of key partners and describe their contributions of how they made a difference in your outreach efforts.

Inland Empire Community Foundation (IECF)

IECF’s capacity as ACBO was critical to the success of the entire region’s response rate. IECF’s contributions included pledge card drives, phone banking, coordination of the CBOs’ regional tables as well as trainings, virtual Questionnaire Assistance Centers, collaboration on the development of the region-wide strategic and implementation plans, among other activities. Their ability to engage and organize the local CBOs/trusted messengers and facilitate those efforts with the other stakeholders was invaluable for the region’s Census campaign.

Inland Empowerment

Inland Empowerment is a coalition of community organizations whose focus is to increase civic participation through engagement of historically ignored and disenfranchised communities. Inland Empowerment was a critical partner to the Census campaign as they not only supported the IECF, but developed and maintained a regional asset mapping application for CBOs and other partners to utilize. This application tracked activity detail including what language services would be provided in, which HTC groups are targeted, as well as the ability to see who is doing what, where, and when throughout the entire region to limit the duplication of efforts among partners.

University of California, Riverside – Center for Social Innovation (UCR-CSI)

UCR-CSI's contributions included coordination of the region's first ever, bi-county complete count committee, also referred to as the Inland Empire Complete Count Committee where Dr. Ramakrishnan served as the committee's director. Other contributions included website building and hosting, social media outreach, various assessments of the partners, and provided the venue for public forums and information gathering, among other activities.

County of San Bernardino

Riverside County collaborated with San Bernardino County on several levels. To name a few, we shared best practices to overcome similar obstacles, collaborated on a micro-media plan and outreach efforts, as well as collaborating on the development of the region-wide strategic and implementation plans.

Riverside County Office of Education (RCOE)

RCOE is designated as the region's Title III Support, which is to ensure that English learners, including immigrant children and youth, attain English proficiency and meet the same challenging academic achievement standards that other students are expected to meet.

With that in mind, RCOE was identified early in the Census planning process as the County's partner who would be deploying QACs throughout the various HTC communities in the County. However due to the pandemic, this did not come to fruition. Although, RCOE was not able to provide QACs, they were still able to provide Census information throughout the school year and the summer months (summer lunch programs), as they are engaged with, and understand the needs of our HTC communities.

Additionally, as the pandemic progressed, we collaborated on a gift card incentive program with RCOE and the U.S. Census Bureau. Residents who provided their Census confirmation numbers were eligible to receive a gift card to Stater Bros Markets, which were acquired at a discounted rate. This program served a dual purpose: 1) As an incentive to complete the questionnaire; 2) To provide the ability to purchase much needed groceries for families during the pandemic.

Cities of Banning, Cathedral City, Coachella, Indio, Lake Elsinore, Menifee, Palm Springs, Perris, Rancho Mirage, and Riverside.

The County released a funding opportunity for the cities, in which the funds would be utilized to develop and conduct Census outreach specific to their demographics. Of the 28 cities in the County, 18 cities opted-in, however only 10 cities executed funding agreements.

The cities who opted-in provided education as well as developed and deployed outreach activities specific to their residents. The cities utilized existing resources and "localized" them to ensure the messaging resonated with their various demographics, while coordinating with the County and other partners to limit the duplication of efforts.

As the pandemic continued into the summer and fall, several cities experienced a reduction in staff capacity, while having to revise their outreach plan to adjust to the current conditions. Several cities expressed difficulty reaching specific residents. In this case, the County and the other regional partners advised those cities on the adjustments that were successful in other jurisdictions and paved a pathway to increase the response rates as the Census campaign entered the fall.

CA-CCC Office

Provided resources and overall guidance for the Census campaign at the State and local level.

United States Census Bureau

Provided resources and guidance for the Census campaign at the national and local level.

- 7) Please describe how you provided accessible and in-language outreach activities, including how you ensured equal and meaningful access to limited English proficient individuals and people with disabilities?

Unfortunately, the County could not deploy QAC/Ks Questionnaire Assistance Centers and Kiosks due to the pandemic. This was a major part of our initial outreach identified in the County's strategic and implementation plans.

The U.S. Census Bureau as well as the State provided a tremendous amount of resources in a variety of languages. These were the materials that were primarily utilized. A majority of the requests we received were to translate materials to simplified Spanish for the communities in the east part of the County.

Additionally, our non-profit partners identified organizations who would be able to provide additional translation services, in languages other than Spanish, when needed.

- 8) Please share a story(s) of how your work has made a difference to Census 2020 and the impact on the community. Please include images and quotes, so we are able to understand the narrative behind the numbers.

"The Census efforts were definitely felt around our entire community. Driving down the freeway you would see reminders from non-profits, cities, and the County to fill out the Census online. It was especially nice seeing the goodie bags that were all over the place at our County Fair-the reusable bag is still in my car and ready to be used when I am at the grocery store." - Andres Coronel, Resident of Palm Desert

"In Indio, we saw all the efforts at our Date Festival/County Fair, the billboards, and even seeing the mobile billboard on the last day was awesome to see!" – Benjamin Guitron - Indio Police Department

9) Please add any suggestions for the 2030 Census efforts, including timelines.

Regardless of how early the planning starts, we can never take into account the uncertainty the future holds, and the 2020 Census campaign certainly demonstrated that reality. However, the 2020 Census campaign provides plenty of data on how to overcome certain obstacles and how to strategically pivot given the circumstances. My suggestion would be to study the 2020 campaign and compile a playbook on what activities worked for each obstacle.

The History of the Census

The framers of the Constitution of the United States chose population to be the basis for sharing political power, not wealth or land.

A census aims to count the entire population of a country, and at the location where each person usually lives.

Federal funds, grants and support to states, counties and communities are based on population totals and breakdowns by sex, age, race and other factors. Your community benefits the most when the census counts everyone.

Not knowing the facts about the Census can make it scary to take. So let's set the record straight about some census rumors. Visit <https://2020census.gov/en/news-events/rumors.html> to learn more about what the census really is! #IECounts #2020Census #Census #HasmeContar #CountMeIn #IECounts

Are non-citizens counted in the census?	Does the 2020 Census ask about citizenship status?	Can my answers be shared with law enforcement or used against me?
FIGHTING 2020 CENSUS RUMORS
YES. Everyone counts. The 2020 Census counts everyone living in the country, including non-citizens.	NO. The 2020 Census does not ask whether you or anyone in your home is a U.S. citizen.	NO. The law prevents the Census Bureau from sharing your information with law enforcement.

El asambleísta Eduardo García aplaude más de $ 15 millones en fondos de la Proposición 68 para parques locales

SACRAMENTO, CA - El asambleísta Eduardo García (D-Coachella) se enorgullece en anunciar y celebrar la exitosa adquisición de más de $ 15 millones en fondos de la Propuesta 68 para parques en su distrito. Hoy, California State Parks lanzó a los últimos beneficiarios del Programa Estatal de Desarrollo de Parques y Revitalización de la Comunidad, que incluye proyectos de La Mecca, Calexico y Heber. Esto marca la primera ronda de los premios del Programa de Subvenciones para el Desarrollo del Parque y la Revitalización de la Comunidad a nivel estatal financiados por la Propuesta 68.

“Me complace anunciar una victoria importante en los parques locales: Mecca, Calexico y Heber recibirán más de $ 15 millones en fondos de la Propuesta

68 para proyectos de parques. Estos son exactamente los tipos de inversiones que hemos estado presionando desde su llegada a Sacramento. Nuestro trabajo con la Proposición 68 creó la mayor oportunidad de financiamiento de California priorizando parques en nuestras comunidades más desatendidas, como las de mi distrito. Estas son inversiones que crean un amplio espectro de beneficios positivos y que pagarán dividendos para mejorar la calidad de vida de nuestros residentes”, dijo el asambleísta Eduardo García, autor conjunto de la Propuesta 68 y presidente del Comité de la Asamblea sobre Agua, Parques y Vida Silvestre.

La comunidad de La Mecca del Valle del Este de Coachella recibirá $ 5,817,660 para construir un nuevo parque regional con un sendero para trotar, equipos de ejercicio, área cubierta para picnic / barbacoa, campos deportivos, iluminación y arte público.

Se adjudicaron dos proyectos en el Condado Imperial. A la Ciudad de Calexico se le asignaron $ 8,500,000 para expandir Heber Park, incluido un nuevo gimnasio multiusos, cancha de baloncesto al aire libre con luces, un campo de fútbol con luces, sendero para caminar, pista de atletismo, áreas de picnic y asientos en todo el parque. El Distrito de Servicios Públicos de Heber recibirá $ 700,000 para renovar y mejorar el parque de sus hijos.

En 2018, los votantes de California aprobaron la Ley de sequía, agua, parques, clima, protección costera y acceso al aire libre para todos de 2018 del miembro de la Asamblea Eduardo García de California (Propuesta 68). Esta medida de bonos, creada conjuntamente por García, asignó varias inversiones históricas, como $ 200 millones para Salton Sea y New River, y $ 725 millones para mejorar las oportunidades recreativas en vecindarios pobres en parques.

says. At its inception, Michael Oman of Palm Springs-based MG Banning LLC was hoping to attract retailers catering to the medical and legal fields to the Banning Business Center, though no tenants were ever announced.

MG Banning LLC's financial partner at the time was La Jolla-based Scripps Investments and Loans, a private lender specializing in real estate acquisition, development and construction.

By 2008 the centers were struggling to obtain funding after their bank fell through and the recession loomed, and company representatives anticipated construction to begin in September of that year on the nine anticipated buildings.

Representatives claimed at the time that there were "many interested parties looking to take advantage" of the Banning Business Center's location.

By 2016 the existing six buildings had fallen into neglect and had become a nuisance and a public safety concern: more than 100 service calls, several fires and at least $35,000 in uncollected citations by January of that year prompted the city to initiate receivership.

The three parcels at the time were then owned by Mission Viejo-based Zukaza LLC (the only one who was in compliance with code enforcement, having boarded up its buildings), San Diego-based 40 Bruin Lancaster, LLC, and Temple City-based Palm Investment Group LLC and De Ortega N.G. Trust.

On Nov. 21, 2017 Riverside County Superior Court Judge Irma Poole Asberry appointed Richardson Griswold, a Solana Beach-based attorney, as the receiver.

Through 2017, Griswold had been credited with having been appointed a receiver more than 50 times in 12 California counties.

Three days prior to that action, another fire had broken out at the abandoned center, forcing the closure of one lane on eastbound Interstate 10 that required the attention of 26 firefighters.

Up through that date of that year, at least 19 fires had been reported at the center.

"The balance of harms to the public, particularly the safety concerns and the expenditure of public funds, outweighs private property ownership rights," Judge Asberry wrote in her order.

Demolition and property cleanup and disposal of the Banning Business Center is expected to take four months.

After more than a year of rehabilitation inactivity and a failure to secure the boundaries of the property by its owner, and despite legal efforts by the owner to prevent Griswold's reappointment as receiver, the city announced on Aug. 14, 2019 that Riverside County Superior Court Judge L. Jackson Lucky granted the city's motion for Griswold's reappointment.

Attorney Wright applauds Griswold's persistence to get the Banning Business Center, well, off the ground.

"One of the huge hurdles was that each property had a different owner, each with varying investors, and businesses crossed property lines," Wright says. "I am honored that Silver & Wright LLP was able to assist the city with getting this extremely dangerous property rehabilitated for the citizens of Banning. The improvement to the economy, and the patience of winning this step by step finally made full rehabilitation of the nuisance property economically feasible."

TAX SCANDAL

Trump went even further than other uber-rich to shrink taxes

WASHINGTON » The tax-avoidance strategies that President Donald Trump capitalized on to shrink his tax bill to essentially zero are surprisingly common among major real estate developers and other uber-wealthy Americans.

Yet Trump characteristically pushed those strategies to the limit, perhaps to the breaking point.

So say tax experts in the wake of a New York Times report Sunday that found that Trump paid only $750 in taxes in both 2016 and 2017 — and none at all in 11 of the 18 years that the newspaper examined.

“The things that Trump did are typical of wealthy businesspeople and particularly wealthy real estate developers,” said Steve Wamhoff, director of federal tax policy at the Institute on Taxation and Economic Policy.

“There are a lot of things that Trump has done that may exceed what is allowed by the law,” Wamhoff said.

Harris to voters: Don't give up as Trump rushes court pick

RALEIGH, N.C. » Kamala Harris urged voters on Monday not to be discouraged by Republican efforts to fill a Supreme Court seat before the election, saying it's the GOP's goal to make people feel like their votes don't matter.

“We will not give up, and we will not give in,” the Democratic vice presidential nominee said. “We will not let the infection that President Trump has injected into the presidency and into Congress, that has paralyzed our politics and pitted Americans against each other, spread to the United States Supreme Court.”

Her remarks, delivered in swing-state North Carolina, marked Harris' most expansive yet on the vacant court seat that was held by Justice Ruth Bader Ginsburg until her death earlier this month. Beyond serving on the Democratic ticket, Harris will play a direct role in the confirmation battle as a member of the Senate Judiciary Committee tasked with vetting the nominee, a spot in which she's shined during past nomination fights.

U.S. ARMED FORCES

As suicides rise, Army brass reassessing outreach

FORT BRAGG, N.C. » While the driving factors of the suicides remain unknown, Maj. Gen. Christopher Donahue, who assumed command of the storied 82nd Airborne Division at Fort Bragg in July, believes that the forced periods of isolation and other stressors the coronavirus pandemic have imposed on his troops and their families have been a major factor.

2020 has been an unprecedented year for the 82nd Airborne Division. In January, for the first time in three decades, the Division's Immediate Response Force was activated amid rising tensions with Iran. At the same time, Lowe's unit was finishing up a nine-month rotation in Afghanistan, America's longest-running war.

By the time soldiers returned to Fort Bragg in the spring, the COVID-19 pandemic was well underway as it threatened to overwhelm the U.S. public health system. Patriotic welcome home ceremonies were replaced with a mandatory two-week quarantine and restrictions.

US judge orders stop to Postal Service cuts, echoing others

PHILADELPHIA » A federal judge in Philadelphia joined others Monday in ordering a halt to recent Postal Service cuts that critics say are causing mail delays and threatening the integrity of the presidential election.

Six states and the District of Columbia presented “compelling evidence” from the U.S. Postal Service itself that shows “a pronounced increase in mail delays across the country” since July, the judge found.

The Postal Service, in response, called election mail the agency's “number one priority.” In an agreement reached Friday in a similar New York case, the agency agreed to handle it as First Class Mail whenever possible and to put more resources toward the effort.

Lawyers for the agency insist that new Postmaster General Louis DeJoy never ordered a slowdown or overtime ban. However, they conceded in court last week that local managers may have interpreted the guidance from Washington that way.

EUROPE

Armenia, Azerbaijan clash in separatist region for a 2nd day

YEREVAN, ARMENIA » Armenian and Azerbaijani forces fought over the separatist region of Nagorno-Karabakh for a second day Monday, with both sides blaming each other for resuming the attacks that reportedly killed and wounded dozens as the decades-old conflict has reignited.

The Azerbaijani Defense Ministry claimed Armenian forces shelled the town of Tartar, while Armenian officials said the fighting continued overnight and Baku resumed “offensive operations” in the morning.

Azerbaijani military officials told the Interfax news agency that over 550 Armenian troops have been “destroyed (including those wounded)” in a claim that Armenia denied.

According to officials in the predominantly Armenian enclave of Nagorno-Karabakh, 58 servicemen on their side have been killed so far. The territory's Defense on Sunday also reported two civilian deaths — a woman and her grandchild.

BELARUS

500 detained at weekend anti-government protests

KYIV, UKRAINE » Authorities in Belarus have detained about 500 people during weekend protests against the country's authoritarian president, who has claimed a sixth term in office in an election widely seen as rigged.

Belarus' Interior Ministry said Monday that 150 protesters were detained on Saturday and over 350 more on Sunday, when anti-government protests spanned 22 cities. Daily rallies have rocked Belarus for over seven weeks now, with the largest ones drawing up to 200,000 people, in the biggest challenge yet to President Alexander Lukashenko's long reign.

About 100,000 demonstrators marched in the Belarusian capital of Minsk on Sunday, demanding the resignation of Lukashenko, who has cracked down hard on opposition and independent news media during 26 years in power.

According to the Viasna human rights group, the clampdown on the protesters this weekend wasn't as violent as before.

Worldwide death toll from the coronavirus eclipses 1 million

By Adam Geller and Rishabh R. Jain
The Associated Press

NEW DELHI » The worldwide death toll from the coronavirus eclipsed 1 million on Tuesday, nine months into a crisis that has devastated the global economy, tested world leaders' resolve, pitted science against politics and forced multitudes to change the way they live, learn and work.

“It's not just a number. It's human beings. It's people we love,” said Dr. Howard Markel, a professor of medical history at the University of Michigan who has advised government officials on containing pandemics and lost his 84-year-old mother to COVID-19 in February.

“It's our brothers, our sisters. It's people we know,” he added. “And if you don't have that human factor right in your face, it's very easy to make it abstract.”

The bleak milestone, recorded by Johns Hopkins University, is greater than the population of Jerusalem or Austin, Texas. It is 2 ½ times the sea of humanity that was at Woodstock in 1969. It is more than four times the number killed in the 2004 earthquake and tsunami in the Indian Ocean.

Even then, the figure is almost certainly a vast undercount because of inadequate or inconsistent testing and reporting and suspected concealment by some countries.

And the number continues to mount. Nearly 5,000 deaths are reported each day on average. Parts of Europe are getting hit by a second wave, and experts fear the same fate may await the U.S., which accounts for about 205,000 deaths, or 1 out of 5 worldwide. That is far more than any other country, despite America's wealth and medical resources.

“I can understand why

REBECCA BLACKWELL — THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A cemetery worker digs a grave in a section of the Valle de Chalco Municipal Cemetery which opened early in the coronavirus pandemic to accommodate the surge in deaths, on the outskirts of Mexico City, Sept. 24.

... numbers are losing their power to shock, but I still think it's really important that we understand how big these numbers really are.”

said Mark Honigsbaum, author of “The Pandemic Century: One Hundred Years of Panic, Hysteria and Hubris.”

The global toll includes people like Joginder Chaudhary, who was his parents' greatest pride, raised with the little they earned farming a half-acre plot in central India to become the first doctor from their village.

After the virus killed the 27-year-old Chaudhary in late July, his mother wept inconsolably. With her son gone, Premrata Chaudhary said, how could she go on living? Three weeks later, on Aug. 18, the virus took her life, too. All told, it has killed more than 95,000 in India.

“This pandemic has ruined my family,” said the young doctor's father, Rajendra Chaudhary. “All our aspirations, our dreams, everything is finished.”

When the virus overwhelmed cemeteries in the Italian province of Bergamo last spring, the Rev. Mario Carminati opened his church to the dead, lining up 80 coffins in the center aisle. After an army convoy carted them to a crematory, another 80 arrived. Then 80 more. Eventually the crisis receded and the world's attention moved on. But the pandemic's grasp endures. In August, Carminati buried his 34-year-old nephew.

“This thing should make us all reflect. The problem is that we think we're all immortal,” the priest said.

The virus first appeared in late 2019 in patients hospitalized in the Chinese city of Wuhan, where the first death was reported on Jan. 11. By the time authorities locked down the city nearly two weeks later, millions of travelers had come and gone. China's government has come in for criticism that it did not do enough to alert other countries to the threat.

Government leaders in countries like Germany, South Korea and New Zealand worked effectively to contain it. Others, like U.S. President Donald Trump and Brazil's Jair Bolsonaro, dismissed the severity of the threat and the guidance of scientists, even as hospitals filled with gravely ill patients.

Brazil has recorded the second most deaths after the U.S., with about 142,000. India is third and Mexico fourth, with more than 76,000.
